

TITLES USED IN HOMOEOPATHY

Monographs in the European Pharmacopoeia have an official Latin title in addition to the monograph title in English or French.

Many materials for which the European Pharmacopoeia contains a monograph are used in homoeopathy. For this use, they may have other titles that differ from the official Latin title in the monograph.

This section lists a number of these monographs and for information provides the monograph number, English title, Latin title, and the other titles used in homoeopathy (the origin is given in brackets: e.g. D for Germany, F for France, etc.). Some of these other titles used in one country may not be acceptable in other countries.

This section also lists a number of monographs which describe starting materials used virtually exclusively for homoeopathic medicines (indicated as 'for homoeopathic preparations') and for which other titles may be used.
